

Comox Valley Land Trust as a partner with the actual administrative body, the Comox Valley Conservation Strategy Community Partnership (David Stapley, Program Manager)

The Comox Valley Conservation Strategy presents a proactive network of on-the-ground protection and restoration in order to allow the rich diversity of the natural world to flourish as we develop and build out our community. It promotes an awareness of the true value of nature's "services", "Natural Systems" approaches, green infrastructure and sensitive areas to be delineated as off limits to development while creating a network of linkages over time to support Biodiversity.
